Podiatrist Begins
Practice
In Heber City

A new doctor to the Heber Valley area will begin sharing office space on Tuesdays at the office of Dr. Raymond Green located at 45 South Main, Heber City, in the near future. Dr. Joseph Reynolds is a podiatrist or foot specialist.

DR. JOSEPH REYNOLDS

Dr. Reynolds is also new to Utah having moved here from California last year. He practices in Salt Lake City with associates Dr. Max Jones and Dr. Blaine Grose.

Dr. Reynolds' early education was obtained in Visalia, California, where he graduated from high school in 1957. He took a leave of absence from his college work after four years to complete a mission in France and Belgium for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He then graduated from San Francisco State University with a degree in biology.

Dr. Reynolds' medical training took place at the California College of Podiatric Medicine where he received his Doctor of Podiatric Medicine degree in 1969. He became established in practice in Porterville, California for four years prior to moving to Utah.

Dr. Reynolds and his wife, Patricia, reside in Murray with their five children and hope to relocate in the Heber Valley area in the near future.
